Chiddingfold Golf News

Winter 2024-25

Golf, but more fun!

2024 has been an incredible year at Chidd with record numbers of people playing the course on a regular basis and the 5-hole academy and practice range proving even more popular than we could ever have imagined!

We would like to sincerely thank everyone who has supported us in this new venture which has guaranteed that Golf at Chiddingfold has a great long-term future. Our plans for this coming winter include a six-week shutdown in January and February which will give the course a chance to rest and allow us to carry out maintenance work that will improve the playing surfaces for the 2025 season.

12-Hole Golf Course

Although we accept that not everyone has embraced the new layout the number of new players especially from the local area has given us great confidence to carry on with investing in the coming year.

We have a new fan in Nick Faldo who has gone public across the world with strong support for 12-hole golf as the answer to encouraging more people to take the game up, this is available to read in the latest edition of Bunkered Magazine (<https://www.bunkered.co.uk/golf-news/12-hole-chiddingfold-golf-club-proving-nick-faldo-right/>). As you will know from our regular news updates, 12 holes is not a new idea and in fact for many years the world's oldest golf tournament, The British Open, was played over a twelve-hole course. It was Jack Nicklaus who warned a few years ago that golf needed to develop a new format, that didn't take as long to play to ensure golf continues to grow in all age groups.

The Academy

Has been a great success this year and we will be constructing an all-weather tee before winter sets in. Our plan will be to keep the range open for as long as possible although this will be weather dependant, but we will turn it into a regular practice ground through the wettest months, using your own golf balls. The 5-hole academy course will be open when the main course is.

Our plans for 2025

Developing the course is our first priority and we have some exciting plans for next year.

Increasing the amount and size of the lakes on the course is currently being discussed with Terrence Edwards, our course consultant. More pathways to keep buggies on the course longer and refurbishment of bunkers are both in the plan.
